

RUGBY 100 Sets the Standard

Customers around the world are finding out firsthand how the RUGBY 100 is setting the standard for general construction lasers.

In business since 1980, DeYoung Concrete of Rockford, Michigan has learned that using the best tools produces the best results. That's why Jim DeYoung, the owner of DeYoung Concrete, purchased a RUGBY 100 in late April 2002. "It's been great," DeYoung said. "It sets up really well, we like the battery options, and the handle is outstanding. It's a really great grip."

The RUGBY has recently been on the job everyday with his site crew as they help build a strip mall.

"We've been using it to set the footings to height," said DeYoung. "It's been terrific. Some days, we may not need it, but then we'll need it everyday. It always works."

DeYoung Concrete's business is both residential and commercial, and the RUGBY 100 is at home is perfect for both applications, according to DeYoung. DeYoung said he would definitely recommend the RUGBY, just as his local dealer Dan Hill of Lasco Laser Instruments of Grand Rapids, MI USA recommended it to him.
